Case No. 24-CR-197-JFH

OPINION AND ORDER

Before the Court is an Amended Unopposed Motion for Continued Scheduling Order (“Motion”) filed by Defendant James Clifford McElwee (“Defendant”). Dkt. No. 58. The Motion states that no party opposes the requested continuance. Id. at 1. For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

The Motion falls under § 3161(h)(7)(A) of the Speedy Trial Act. This section permits a federal district court to exclude any period of delay resulting from a continuance if “the judge granted such continuance on the basis of his findings that the ends of justice served by taking such action outweigh the best interest of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial.” 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A). A court must orally or in writing set forth its reasons for granting an ends of justice continuance and make findings that a continuance is in the best interest of the defendant and the public. Id. The statute permits a court to consider whether “the failure to grant such a continuance ... would deny counsel for the defendant ... the reasonable time necessary for effective preparation, taking into account the exercise of due diligence.” Id. at § 3161(h)(7)(B)(iv). The Tenth Circuit has been clear that an ends of justice continuance should not be granted “cavalierly” and it was intended to be a “rarely used tool.” United States v. Williams, 511 F.3d 1044, 1048-49 (10th Cir. 2007).

In United States v. Toombs, 574 F.3d 1262 (10th Cir. 2009), the Tenth Circuit limited the circumstances in which an ends of justice continuance can be granted and emphasized that this should be a rarely used procedural tool. The parties must provide the district court a sufficient record to determine why the facts stated in a motion for continuance “result[] in the need for additional time.” Id. at 1271. This requires the parties to provide specific information about the need for a continuance, and the district court may need to hold a hearing before granting an ends of justice continuance. Id. at 1272-73. A district court must also give significant weight to the public’s interest in a speedy trial, and the public’s interest is generally served by strict adherence to the requirements of the Speedy Trial Act. Id. at 1273.

Defendant requests additional time because discovery is voluminous and counsel is required to review all discovery with his client in-person due to the Protective Order entered in this matter, and, as such, further time is necessary for Defendant to properly review the materials produced with his counsel. Dkt. No. 58. Both Defendants have filed Speedy Trial Waivers through March 17, 2025 [Dkt. Nos. 56, 59], but this Court’s March 2025 trial docket is actually set for March 24, 2025. However, because this Court has previously declared this case to be complex [Dkt. No. 27], the Court will not require supplemental Speedy Trial Waivers from Defendants.

In addition to considering Defendant’s interests, the Court has considered the public’s interest in the speedy resolution of criminal cases and finds that a limited ends of justice continuance will not subvert the public’s interest in the prompt prosecution of criminal matters.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the Motion for Amended Scheduling Order filed at Dkt. No. 58 is GRANTED. The jury trial set for January 20, 2025 at 8:45 a.m. is stricken. The following amended scheduling order is hereby entered:
